

Uniting to protect and conserve our diverse lands and natural resources

The Wareham Land Trust is a private, nonprofit corporation dedicated to protecting and conserving Wareham's open space and natural resources for future generations.

The goals of the Wareham Land Trust are to:

- Preserve open space in its natural condition, encourage public access where appropriate, and receive donations of land and funds to purchase conservation lands and easements;
- Work with landowners to acquire conservation easements that limit development on significant privately-held natural resource lands;
- Assist and unite citizens, organizations and government entities in our shared goals of conservation and responsible land use for the benefit of present and future generations; and to that end, encourage partnerships among conservation organizations, government, the private sector and business to achieve said goals;
- Educate the public about the environmental and economic benefits of conserving open space, and the need for sustainable development and growth management; and
- Manage and monitor preserves and easements, and enforce restrictions to protect natural values.
